Grant 'paves the way' for city

By SUE McDONALD
ANP Editor

More than 300 acres of undeveloped land of Wahrman Road may soon become a hub of industrial activity in the City of Romulus as the result of $383,000 federal Economic Development Administration grant.

The city received word last week of the grant, which will help finance the paving of Wahrman south of Eureka Road to Pennsylvania Road and the installation of storm drains and sanitary sewer lines.

"We are extremely pleased to be the recipient of an Economic Development Administration grant," Mayor Beverly McAnally said in an interview Monday. "We got it in the waning moments of the Eda and we're just delighted. It fits in with our plans to open up 300 acres for development...may be more."

"This could be the catalyst for the whole area."

The project, according to the mayor, will cost about $700,000, although the actual dollar amount will not be known until after bids have been awarded. The city has the permission of the State of Michigan to borrow additional funds for the project, with those costs to be covered by the increase in the State Equalized Valuation as the result of development of the area.

The city already has one commitment for the site from one firm, which had planned on moving from the City of Detroit to Troy, but switched to Romulus as the result of the city's plans for developing the property as an industrial area.

McAnally said the project will create about 100 private sector jobs initially, with about 1,000 anticipated over the next five years.

McAnally credited Congressman William D. Ford with helping the city get the grant, noting that the request appeared doomed when the Reagan Administration requested $14.5 million to phase out the program in fiscal 1986 rather than the $200 million that was approved by the House last week and an attempt to rescind funding for fiscal 1985.

"This grant is evidence of the benefits that this worthwhile program can provide to economic development in a community," Ford said. "Mayor McAnally and her staff are to be commended for their excellent work on the EDA grant application."

The mayor also lauded her staff's efforts in getting approval of the application, noting that "it's hard to convey to them (EDA officials) the potential of vacant land."

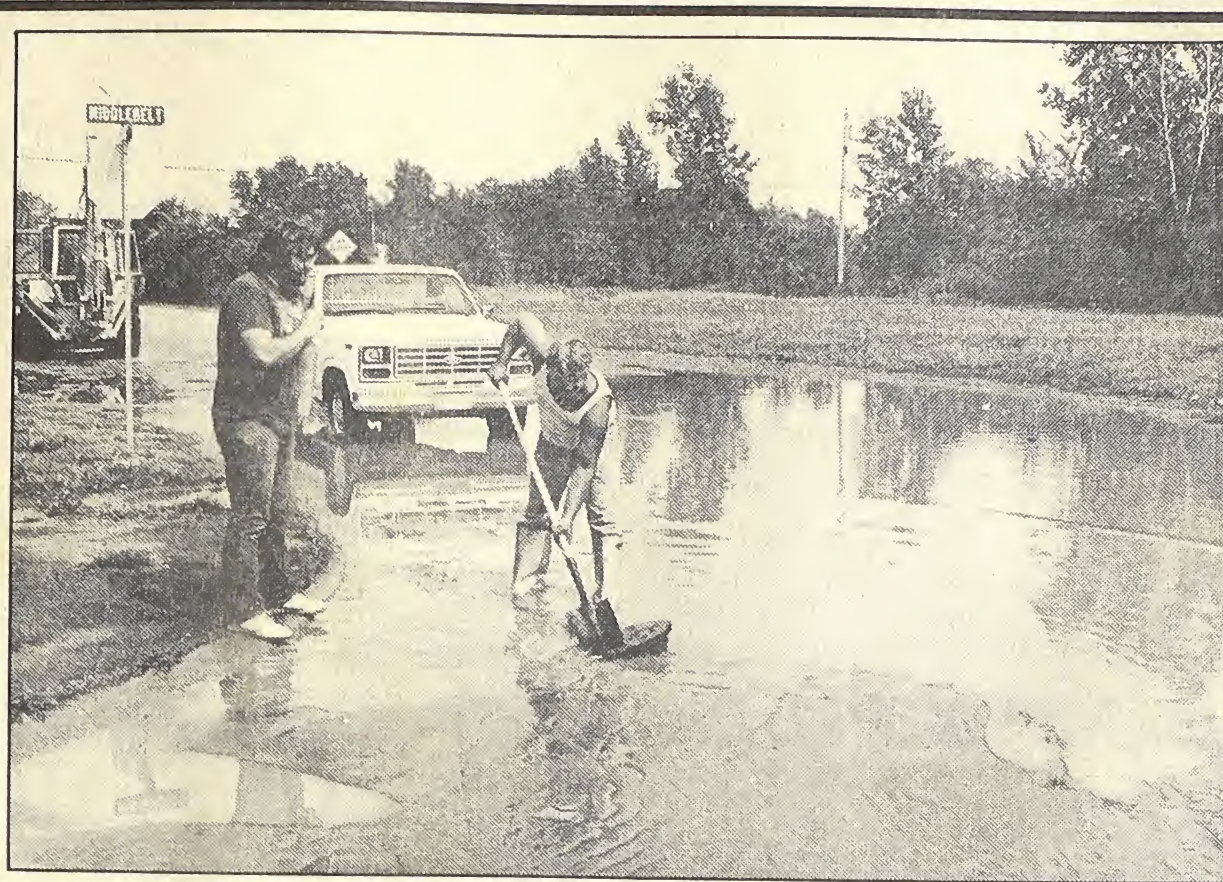

The development of the Wahrman Road site fits in with the mayor's plans for the city.

"I have since my election attempted to promote the city because of its close proximity to the airport," she explained. "It's there; it won't go away, so we're trying to use it to our benefit."

"The quality of life in Romulus is much diminished by its proximity to the airport, and we should be able to provide better services for the benefit of our citizens by using the airport to our advantage."

The mayor also believes that development of the area will also have a positive effect on the residents not only in an improved tax base, but in the retention of young people, who leave the city in search of employment.

"Romulus residents are committed to a quality education, but once young people have completed school they have been leaving because there are no jobs here," she said. "With the increased economic growth and development our young people will not have to go elsewhere for work."

Main break

Department of Public Works crew members attempted to repair a water main break at Middlebelt and Smith roads Saturday, July 20.

Changes in the pressure of the earth and the age of the main, a pressing problem in that area, were to blame for the mishap.

Robert Plank, director of the DPW, said although the problem has been corrected as a result of "band-aiding" the main, several thousand gallons of water were lost before the break could be contained.

Second chance Citizens fight landfill proposal

By CHRIS RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Environmental Management Systems (EMS), a Detroit-based solid waste landfill operation, has reapplied to the Department of Natural Resources for approval to place a toxic waste site in Huron Township.

EMS had previously applied to the DNR in January 1984 but was rejected on the basis of administrative errors, according to DNR spokesperson Minny Koch.

This newest application is one of numerous opportunities opened to a land-fill operator attempting to obtain a license.

DNR has until July 30 to find the application administratively complete. After that time, the department has 120 days for a technical review, according to Koch.

The site selected for disposing of the as yet undisclosed toxic solid wastes is 300 acres already purchased by EMS at the northeast corner of Interstate 275 and Will Carlton Road in Huron Township.

That area, considered to be a part of a 100-year flood plain, an area sanctioned from landfills by the DNR, is also near Huron/Clinton Metro Park.

A 100-year flood plain is an area of land considered susceptible to flooding once in 100 years.

Thomas Handyside, of EMS, said it was a "matter of interpretation" as to whether a landfill can be placed in that area. Koch said that the law is "very, very clear that a landfill cannot be located in a flood plain."

What the company may have in mind, she said last week, is the relocation of a county drain which would alter the 100-year flood plain and perhaps enhance EMS's chances of locating the site there.

A resolution strongly opposing the construction of the landfill passed the House of Representatives shortly after the EMS reapplication was made public.

Rep. Lynn Owen (D-Maybee) said House Bill 261 voices the objections over the project mainly because officials from the company "want to build their site on land that is near Huron/Clinton's Metro Park system...it's also located on a flood plain area, and for obvious reasons, that alone could prove very harmful to public health and safety..."

The Bill voices the objections of the community as well.

The Huron Valley Citizens Association, organized to fight the project, has 800 active members "who are doing all they can to see that (EMS) is denied permissions to build in the area," according to Owen.

An environmental protection millage, passed in July 1983, levied two mills for two years against residents to fight the landfill project.

So far, the group has spent $400,000 in its attempts to halt construction.

EMS currently operates a solid waste landfill in Sumpter Township.

There is only one operating toxic waste site—Wayne Disposal in Van Buren Township—currently in use in Michigan, according to the DNR.

The DNR will provide its assessment of the EMS application to a site review board chosen by Governor James Blanchard and composed of officials from the department of public health, DNR, state police, a geologist, engineer and two township and county appointees.

Woman killed in accident

A woman dashing across an expressway was killed Sunday, July 21, in a freak accident, police said.

Judith Ann Sangster, 34, of Ypsilanti, was pronounced dead on arrival at Westland Medical Center after attempting to cross westbound I-94 at 10:37 p.m. to use a restroom, according to Det. Sam Chalton.

A companion, Walter Stockinger, 35, of Ann Arbor, was driving westbound on I-94. He parked his vehicle on the north side of I-94 along side a ditch, at which point Sangster dashed across a ramp and was struck by an oncoming car.

The driver of the car, a 39-year-old Charlton woman, has not been charged in the incident.

Police are continuing their investigation into the accident.

Traveling kitchen serves love by the slice

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Take a 'portable' bus, a couple ovens, a lot of goodwill and pizza.

Pizza?

What does pizza have to do with traveling and goodwill?

A lot if you are a member of the Ilitch family, better known to Michigan residents as the founders of Little Caesar's and "pizza-pizza", that now-famous marketing technique that promulgated the pie into a national cuisine.

Recently, as part of their traveling pizza give-away, the Ilitch's 'Love Kitchen' visited Romulus's Community Baptist Church.

Their mission—as Lisa Ilitch put it, was to offer the tasty delight as served by Little Caesar's to those people who can not afford the cost.

The brainchild of Little Caesar's chairman of the board, Michael Ilitch, the Love Kitchen will travel the United States to "provide nutritious pizza meals" to people in soup kitchens, churches and anywhere the hungry can be found.

Since April, the traveling van entourage has served more than 11,000 people in the Detroit area. Its next stop is Ohio, where at least 5,000 people are expected to be served.

With their custom-made, totally self-contained van, the staff of the Love Kitchen can produce 10,000 slices of pizza at one time.

Just as customers are served in the 750 Little Caesar's franchises and outlets throughout the country, Love Kitchen recipients are served with precision timing and in a "team-like" effort.

"It's a large task," Lisa Ilitch admitted of her family's venture. "You have to make contacts, coordinate help, find out if the site is big enough (for the van)."

The Ilitch's have been concerned with fighting hunger in the United States and the Love Kitchen is a natural extension of a perfect way to help, according to Ilitch.

"The statistics on the hungry people in the U.S. are staggering so when you want to help out in a situation like this, there is no better place to start than in your own backyard," Mike Ilitch said.

"...I believe corporations need to be more conscious of the plight of the poor right here in our own urban communities, and I encourage all business people in the Detroit area to work to raise the corporate consciousness of their own companies," he recently stated in a press release.

Hoping others will follow in their footsteps is one way of "giving back" to society, Lisa Ilitch said.

"It's a family thing," she said. "It's something we've always wanted to do and we want to make sure it's the way we want it."

Their policy is to "never take a penny" from anyone who is needy.

Pizza served and staff provided at the various sites are funded by Little Caesar's. There is no charge to organizations who participate in the food donation program.

Currently averaging two weeks per month of on-the-road-travel, the Love Kitchen plans to expand its operation to a daily basis, all year round.

After 26 years of serving pizza to a pizza-conscious society, the scheme seems to be working well.

Adonna Buckley, coordinator for the 'Outreach' program at Community Baptist Church agreed.

"They loved it," she said of the hundred plus participants of the Love Kitchen's July visit. "They wanted to know when we would have it again."

Soon, the Ilitch's assured.

Little Caesar's Love Kitchen operation requires three hours of preparation for set-up, serving and, as shown here, closing-up shop.

State aid plan confirms commitment to education

The 1985-86 state school aid bill the Legislature has just enacted "reaffirms public education as the top priority in Lansing for the third year in a row," according to Representative Lynn Owen (D-Maybee).
"The bill provides an 11.7 percent increase in direct state funding of the schools, after the record 19.7 percent increase of 1983-84 and the 13.6 percent increase of 1984-85," Owen said.
Roughly $1.8 billion will be going out to the districts in the coming year, in addition to the $596.7 million the state will pay for school employees' retirement and the extensive rebates the state will be making to individual citizens on their school property taxes.
The 1985-86 school aid formula will provide a maximum per-pupil guarantee for each district, in combined formula aid and local operating revenue, of $339.35 plus $68.50 for each operating mill levied, which will mean a guarantee of $2,469.70 per pupil for an average 31.1-mill district, Owen explained. Owen explained.
Some $28 of this amount will continue to depend upon the offering of a 6-hour day and either a specified minimum curriculum at the secondary level or comparable graduation standards; and the $8.35 will be tied to either the maintenance of a class size of 25 pupils or less in kindergarten and first grade, or a 5 percent improvement over 1984-85 class sizes in these grades, although waivers will be granted districts making good faith efforts to comply.

"The substantial improvement in formula aid will continue the process of bringing districts 'into formula' and thereby improving the overall equity of Michigan school finance, as has been occurring for the last two years," Owen pointed out.
"In addition, all major forms of categorical aid are being increased. State funding of special programs for gifted and talented students will see a hike of 55 percent over the dramatic improvement made last year, and state support of Vocational Education programs and equipment will rise fully 21 percent."
Both through the state school aid act and the Department of Education budget bill, the new state grants that were initiated last year as a result of the work of Speaker Gary Owen's Ad Hoc Committee on Education $1,500,000 to assist districts with voluntary mergers and $1,300,000 for cooperative programs and high-tech projects - will be continued, Owen added.

As part of the implementation of the recommendations of Governor Blanchard's Summit Task Force, $1,000,000 will be made available to encourage early-childhood education and $1,292,540 will be provided for school safety and security programs.
"I am extremely pleased that our economic recovery permits us to make these gains for education and still contemplate further tax reduction of a meaningful and responsible nature, as evidenced by the tax-reform bills recently passed by the House," Owen concluded. "But, most gratifying of all, in the process and in contrast to many of the years prior to 1983, our public schools are continuing to receive the priority they deserve."

dan's dogs

by dan a morris

Dan Morris copyright 1985

Editor's note: Dan Morris has been a professional dog trainer for more than 20 years and has worked in all phases of dog training. If you have a specific problem, his advice is available by writing to him in care of Associated Newspapers Inc., P.O. Box 578, Wayne, 48184. He will reply in this column.
The difference between a guard-trained dog and one not trained to that level is being able to stop the bite.
That statement sometimes confuses the dog owner because they may have a preconceived notion that all guard dogs are vicious, all guard dogs are either Shepards, Dobermans or Bouviers, all guard dogs broth at the mouth, anxious for the next victim.
The properly trained guard dog should be friendly toward everyone, strangers included, until given the provocation to act otherwise.
A guard dog should be completely sociable and immune to the outside irritants of loud noise, rock music, storms, teenagers and abusive neighbors. His attitude should be that comparable to a master of martial arts. In other words, a skill fully-trained guard dog is one that can evaluate people and situations. This animal uses his head, not muscle before reacting.

Should the human factor prevail and the owner turn the dog "on" toward a stranger, more often than not, the dog will pause, evaluate, and, if correctly sizing up the person finds there is no danger to the owner, will NOT attack - thereby saving someone's life and saving the owner a lawsuit.
Because a dog cannot recognize images clearly at a distance, there is always that possibility the dog will obey the master's command to protect and charge after the "assailant." This is where the supreme control of guard training pays off. Should the master suddenly realize the foe is really a friend, the dog can be commanded "out" and will immediately return to his master with no harm to anyone. This is what is meant by being able to STOP THE BITE.

Any dog that evaluates, that doesn't act like a bully dog, barking and lunging at anyone and everyone, that calmly appraises situations before reacting, is worth his weight in gold.
Any dog can be trained in this manner, be it a Poodle, Cocker Spaniel, Shepherd. Size and breed are irrelevant. Any dog can be guard trained but once trained to this proficiency MUST be given the respect a Muhammed Ali is given, for he's earned it.

Ken Ingle

A polished Diamond'

Look-alike gears up for a comeback

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

According to Andy Warhol, we are all due 15 minutes of fame. If that's true, then Ken Ingle of Canton Township is using up a lot of other people's time.

Ken, as is obvious from the accompanying photographs, is a dead ringer for Neil Diamond. His first attempt to take advantage of his looks ended in his winning a look-alike contest on the Kelly and Company television show nearly four years ago. "It was a last-minute thing, too," says Ingle. "I was sort of pushed into it by friends, but it was great," he recalled.

For awhile, Ken was everywhere; ads, performing in nightclubs, but he took a sudden dislike to what he was doing. "It occurred to me that I was cheating people. They were expecting, in one way or another, to see a Neil Diamond show. No one but Diamond himself could do that," Ingle says.

Besides, he says, the demand for look-alikes went down, partly due to million-dollar lawsuits brought against companies that utilized look-alikes in national advertising. "But the main reason I quit was that I felt I was cheating the people, selling them an illusion."

Ingle adds that while he may be a pretty good singer, his voice doesn't resemble Diamond's. "So," he says, "since I'm about to make this comeback," he laughs, "this time instead of a live band I'll be using soundtracks, miming along with the music."

To add variety to the shows, Ingle, who once ran his own stable of look-alikes, says that his stage show would also include another singer, and probably one or two comedians. "I've got a few look-alike comedians in mind, some that I've worked with before. Believe me, they'll knock your socks off!"

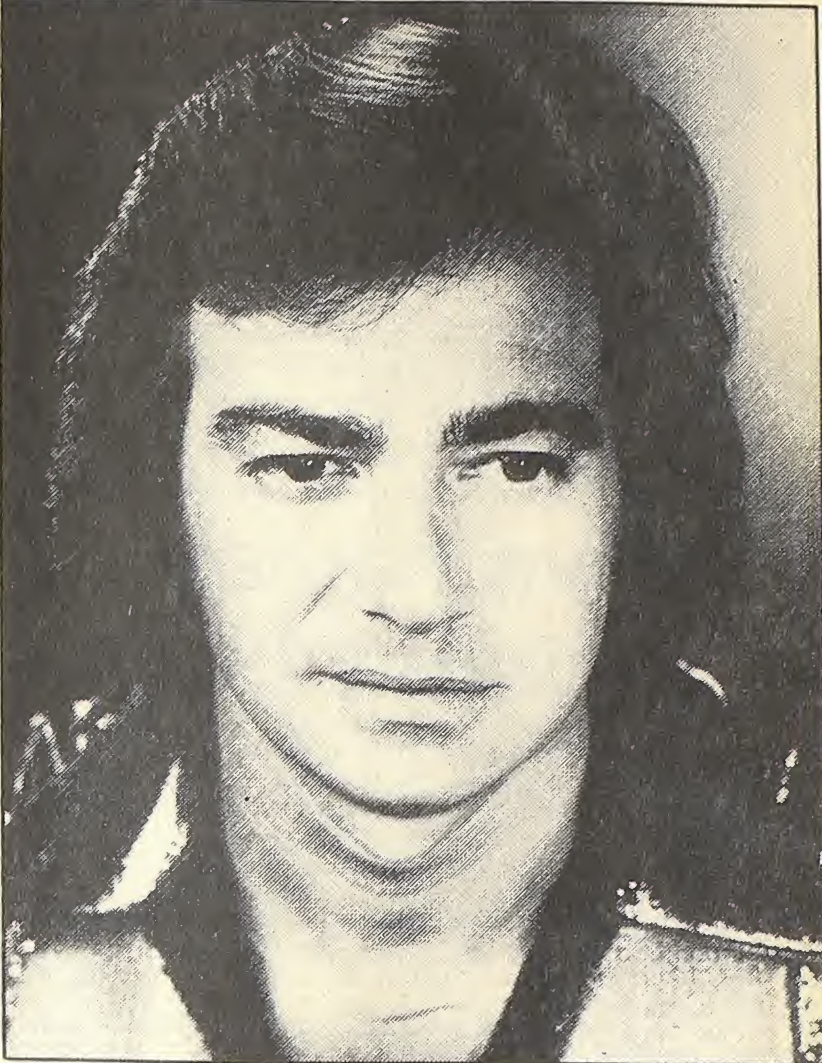

Working before a large audience is quite a thrill, as any of us can imagine, but people like Ingle experience. "No doubt about it," he says, "it's a high. I need my wife to bring me back to reality after being onstage."

"A year or two ago, we had seats in the first few rows at Pine Knob for the Diamond show, and towards the end, when we were all standing, he just about fell over doing a double take when he saw me," says Ingle with a laugh, "it was like he didn't know if he was onstage or in the audience!"

But, as one might imagine, looking like a celebrity isn't always fun and games "but," Ingle says with a smile, "it does get us better service at restaurants!"

According to Ingle, he hasn't been able to go shopping at a mall or do "normal" things for years, and he misses that.

"Last month, my wife and I went to Toronto, and Eaton Center is just the greatest place to shop in the world, but we weren't left alone for two minutes," he says. "When you show people identification that you're not actually Neil Diamond, they still don't believe you. They say it's fake.

"It's definitely a mixed blessing," Ingle says.

Since summer is the slow season for the nightclubs, Ingle is gearing up for the fall and winter, when he plans on taking the stage once more, with his main concern "giving the audience their money worth of entertainment."

Ingle can do it. No longer a "Diamond" in the rough, Ingle is polished and raring to go!

Sewer snafu "buries" New Boston resident

By CHRIS RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

He said last week he wanted to be buried in his hole after he had nearly 'dug' himself to death but nobody took him seriously.

That is until Donald Taylor landed feet first in his nine-foot hole last Friday and had to be dug out by rescue workers.

Taylor is the New Boston resident who is fighting the township to recapture his losses after having dug unsuccessfully for a sewer riser, a line leading four feet up from a sewer main, allowing him to tap into the township's sewer line.

Township workers July 15 searched in vain for the controversial tap that engineers said was there.

Finally, in what should have been the finale to the month-long search, workers 'saddled' the main, creating an artificial tap and placed a riser on the sewer.

Ron Taber, head of the department of public works, admitted that there was indeed no riser, as had been stated by township officials.

Taylor, now that the required riser was in place, set out Friday, July 19, to place a line from the just-placed riser to the site of his modular home when the hole he had dug caved in.

Taber said that the ground in that area had been "dug up so many times" that it just caved in, taking Taylor with it.

Rescue workers, and Taber, finally extracted Taylor, buried from the waist up, from his pre-requested 'grave' site.

The incident did nothing for Taylor's disposition about what should have been an innocuous event.

He had been attempting since June to convince township officials that engineering plans were inaccurate when placing the site of the riser on his property.

He said now he will proceed with action to recover his losses throughout the ordeal.

Township officials, while admitting that their engineering plans were wrong, will not concede to giving Taylor $270 he seeks in restitution.

"As far as I know, it hasn't changed anything," Vicki Lyons, the township clerk, said Monday.

Taylor, on the other hand, said the incident has only served to make him more angry at township officials--and less eager to venture near any gaping holes for awhile.

A new how-to

Each year parents all over the country search for new ways to keep their teen-agers interested in studying foreign languages. Often not knowing much of the language themselves, parents can find it difficult to help with vocabulary and grammar homework.

An exciting way to help students improve their foreign language skills is to become a Host Family to one of the hundreds of appealing, friendly English-speaking teen-agers from all over the world who are coming to America this fall to learn about our way of life.

These exchange students' search for a suitable Host Family is sponsored by the American Institute for Foreign Study Scholarship Foundation, whose offices are in Greenwich, Connecticut, and San Francisco. Free brochures from the Foundation describe how easy it can be to become a Host Family and highlight the many educational benefits an intercultural exchange can provide, including scholarships that can be applied for family members to study abroad themselves.

"We hope more American families will take part in this program," said Paul A. Cook, Executive Director of the AIFS Scholarship Foundation. "What better incentive can there be for American teen-agers to settle down and really learn that new language than to see their own contemporaries stretching themselves by living in a foreign land.

"Host Families tell us how having an exchange student makes their own children recognize how small the world really is, how many ways there are of seeing things, how important it is to understand each other. The kids help each other with their languages. Suddenly grades improve, and new interests develop."

For more information on how to become a Host Family for a visiting exchange student, call the American Institute for Foreign Study Scholarship Foundation at (800) 243-4567 east of Mississippi.

Parker promoted

James T. Parker has been named vice-president of technical operations for Seibert Oxidermo, it was announced by Donald D. Hurst, president of the Detroit based industrial coatings company.

"His broad range of experience in automotive coatings will aid our expanding research and development efforts toward new and improved products in this primary market area," said Hurst.

Parker, 45, joins

Seibert Oxidermo from Ford Motor Company, where he began his career in 1963 as a paint development engineer. Promotions with Ford led him through a series of managerial positions in automotive finishes, exterior ornamentation, advanced body trim engineering and advanced coatings development.

A native of Wahpeton, North Dakota, Parker earned bachelor's and master's degrees in chemistry from North Dakota State University.

Seibert Oxidermo maintains a major manufacturing facility in Romulus.

A Little 'Peanut'

Stephanie Winiarski, 8, of Linden, Michigan, the Michigan Kiwanis Clubs' 1984 'Little Miss Peanut' will pass her crown to a new Kiwanis queen on July 29 at the District Pageant in Livonia.

The contest will be held in the Mama Mia Banquet Hall, 27770 Plymouth Road, Livonia, beginning at 7 p.m.

Competing in the Livonia contest will be 6-7- and 8-year-old girls who are sponsored by Kiwanis clubs in lower Michigan.

All will be vying for the chance to represent the Michigan Kiwanis District at the International Kiwanis "Little Miss Peanut" Pageant in Oak Brook, Illinois (near Chicago) next Aug. 30, where the winner will receive $10,000 scholarship, an all-expense-paid trip to the Pageant, plus merchandise, prizes and endorsement opportunities.

The International Pageant will be held at the new Drury Lane Dinner/Theatre complex in Oak Brook.

Parents who wish to enter their daughters in the pageant competition should contact the Kiwanis club in their own community, or Pageant headquarters in Chicago, (312) 986-9400. There are no fees or costs of any kind to participate in the Kiwanis "Little Miss Peanut" Pageant program.

Stephanie Winiarski, who represented Michigan Kiwanis clubs at the International Pageant last year (emceed by television star and long-running emcee of the Miss America Pageant, Bert Parks) will be on hand in Livonia to counsel and advise the little candidates on how best to compete in the International Pageant in Oak Brook.

The $10,000 scholarship first prize and other expenses of putting on the pageant were made possible by a grant from the Georgia Peanut Commission, an association of peanut growers and shellers who supply more than 300 tons of peanuts annually to Kiwanis clubs for fund raising.

The "Little Miss Peanut" Pageant is sponsored by the Kiwanis Kids' Day Peanut Sale Committee, Inc., a nonprofit organization of Kiwanis members headquartered in Oak Brook, Illinois, which coordinates Kiwanis Peanut Day fundraisers nationwide.

It was the end of a long career last week when Betty Drake spent her last day at Jack Demmer Ford in Wayne. Drake had worked with Demmer since 1964 and acted as the business manager controller for the dealership. According to Demmer, she began her career when the business had only two or three employees and ended her career supervising more than 20. "We'll really miss her," Demmer said, "She's always done a real good job." Drake was honored by Demmer and her fellow employees at a farewell party July 16.

David Drops Donut Depot—Creates Canton Cafe. David Jason, owner/manager of the former Donut Depot on Michigan Avenue in Canton, has turned his business around dramatically by changing his donut shop into a full-fledged cafe. The new Canton Cafe, which began serving sandwiches and light meals only 2 weeks ago has been a smashing success. The reason for the switch is simple. Says David, "Too many people are health conscious today and that's not so good when you're in the doughnut business. Of course, those of us who jump off the diet wagon every-once-in-a-week are in for a treat at Twist & Shake (corner of Ford Road and Haggerty in Canton). Olds make dash across America

ANP Editor

Driving three vintage automobiles, each more than 80 years old, is presenting some unique problems to this year's Curved Dash Across America team... problems like staying out of the way of modern, high speed traffic, performing needed maintenance and repairs while on the road and explaining the chugging, 1-cylinder motorized curiosities to interested onlookers across the country.

This year's 3-car team includes a 1902, 1903 and 1904 curved dash Oldsmobiles, which will be passing through the Motor City later this week in a cross-country trek, slated to end in New York City Aug. 5.

The team is made up of Roy Bernick in a 1903 Olds, Gary Hoosbeen in a 1902 Olds and Joseph Merli in a 1904 Olds, who began the race in San Francisco on June 30. Their mission is to deliver a letter from San Francisco Mayor Diane Feinstein to New York City Mayor Edward Koch by the August deadline.

The team will leave from Lansing on July 26 and traveling at an estimated 10 miles per hour will pass through Mason, Stockbridge and Plymouth enroute to Dearborn, where the cars will be stored over night at Charnock Oldsmobile on Michigan Avenue.

According to Sid Charnock, the dealership's sales manager, when the cars will arrive is uncertain, considering they will be covering more than 100 miles and their departure time from Lansing is unknown.

However, once at the dealership, the cars will be stored in the service area to permit the drivers a chance to make repairs and get them ready for the next day's trek, which will be a resumption of the original route taken in 1903, across the Canadian border through Windsor, Leamington, Port Alma and Cedar Springs to the Saturday night stopover in Blenheim.

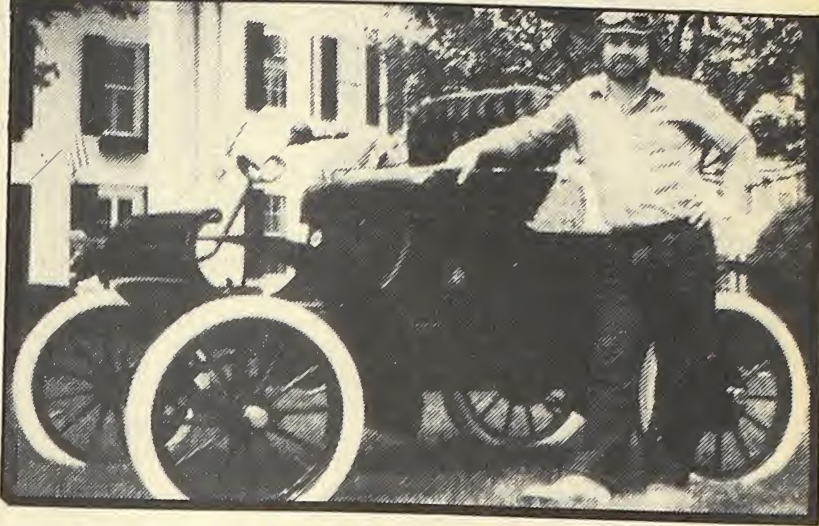

According to Charnock, the race is being spearheaded by the Oldsmobile Division of the General Motors Corporation and the drivers are strictly "Olds enthusiasts."

While the drivers will be afforded the luxury of hotel accommodations, such as the Holiday Inn in Dearborn, and the use of dealership service areas, it was a different story for the original Curved Dash driving team of Lester Whitman and Eugene Hammond, who left San Francisco on July 6, 1903, and reached New York City on Sept. 18 of that year.

According to accounts of the trip, published in "From Sea to Sea in 1903 in a Curved Dash Oldsmobile," "West of Omaha, roads maps were nonexistent and the drivers were compelled to draw up their own enroute as they talked to natives to determine the best trails."

There were no gas stations, motels, fast food restaurants, road signs and frequently no roads.

"No one had succeeded in driving a motor car from sea to sea in either direction up to that time. Several had made the attempt, including Cleveland's pioneer automaker Alexander Winton, the previous year. They ended in dismal failure.

"Winton was so discouraged after his car broke down in the Nevada sand dunes that he made a statement to the press that day that no motor vehicle, regardless of the make, would ever succeed in bridging the continent until better roads could be built." The book goes on to note that "the state of metallurgical art in 1903 left much to be learned. Axles and springs snapped without warning and engine parts would crystallize and break much to often."

The cross-country mail delivery this year's team will make follows in the footsteps of the 1903 race. At that time the team was to deliver a letter from San Francisco Mayor E.E. Schmitz to New York City Mayor Seth Lowe.

There were times when it looked like that mail might not get through. In Placerville, California, they were forced to travel to a mine to get 5 gallons of gas; at Humboldt Sink in Nevada they got lost and ended up on an alkali lake "extending for miles;" endured near freezing temperatures at 7,000 and 8,000 feet elevations in Evanston, Wyoming; and in Omaha, Nebraska, ran into so much rain that their trip was delayed three days while they waited for the roads to clear.

In Detroit, the team "went to the races in the afternoon."

chef larry janes

It shouldn't take the 4th of July to get everyone in the mood for starting those barbecues and grills. I don't know very many folks who would turn down a sizzling burger, a thick, juicy steak or a rotisssed turkey or roast right off the grill! No big deal you say? Getting out of the kitchen on a hot steamy summer day really can be fun and easy. IF you know the correct way to do it!

First off, get the old fire going, or for those of you a tad more civilized, turn on the gas and get the lava rock hot. For proficient cooking, allow AT LEAST 30 to 45 minutes to get the coals and grill hot. You can use an electric starter to cut down the need for starter fuel, and, if you BBQ a lot, it might be a worthwhile investment. Check out the local hardware store for models costing less than $14. Snubbing modern technology, I prefer to use a "chimney starter." I took a 3-pound empty coffee can, cut out top and bottom and punch a few holes in the side. Fill the bottom with paper and top with coals, light and my coals are ready in 30 minutes or less!

Forget all those new fangled "hot-to-trot" must haves for BBQ gizmos. I recommend that all you need is a good pair of tongs (with a wooden handle), a long handled fork and spatula and an ovenproof, elbow-length oven mit. If you need skewers, purchase the cheap bamboo (soak them first in water overnight to keep from burning). An empty and well-cleaned out Windex bottle is also recommended for those fatty flare-ups.

Straight grill cooking is great for steaks, chops, burgers and poultry parts that have a tendency to cook faster. If desired, a "tent" made of foil can be used to speed up cooking poultry parts and thicker cuts of meat.

Personally, I love to "smoke cook." Fortunately, for me, I have a covered, "kettle" type grill that is great for smoke-cooking turkeys, game hens and roasts. I also throw on my wrapped baked potatoes and a house speciality "baked onions," while the old grill is going. When doing large game birds and roasts, I recommend having a drip pan placed directly under the food and the coals spread AROUND the pan. This will avoid fire flare-ups and burnt birds.

For the strongest smoke flavor, you must add chips or twigs of aromatic wood to your charcoal. Hickory chips are the most widely used of flavoring and should be soaked and tossed on the fire during the entire process, every 15 minutes or so. A few large, peeled garlic cloves tossed in will add a pungency, as will slivered gingerroot. Twigs of fruitwood such as twigs from cherry or apple trees add aroma and flavor too. Don't forget your herb garden (if you have one) and toss on a few bay leaves and even some thyme and rosemary work wonders in adding distinct flavors.

SOY LEMON MARINADE FOR BEEF (great for cheaper cuts of beef)

1/2 cup soy sauce
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 teaspoon seasoned pepper
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 bay leaf
1 clove garlic, crushed

Place all ingredients in a heavy plastic food bag. Add meat. Secure and allow to marinate at least 4 hours, preferably overnight. Makes enough marinade for a 6-pound roast.

FISH SMOKED IN PAPER (something different)

ALLOW 1 POUND OF FISH PER PERSON

Clean the fish, remove head and tails. Rub with salt and sprinkle with pepper. Stuff with equal parts of chopped parsley and onion.

Wrap each fish well in buttered waxed paper.

Soak 8 double sheets of newspaper in water and warp fish so the thickness of paper is about 1 inch.

Place on hot coals (not flames). Let paper smolder, but not burn. (So have that squirt bottle ready). When the packets have smoldered down to the waxed paper layer, use tongs to remove. Remove waxed paper (skin should stick to waxed paper) and serve with melted butter and lemon. (A 3-pound fish will take approximately 1 1/4 hours.)

SMOKY PEACH BASTE (great on lamb, pork or chicken)

1 can (about 9 oz.) peaches
1/4 cup catsup
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons oil or melted butter
1/2 teaspoon liquid smoke

Puree all in blender or processor until smooth.

BOURBON RIBS

1/4 cup catsup
1/4 cup vinegar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1/3 cup bourbon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 cup molasses
1 tablespoon Worcestershire
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 clove garlic, crushed
3-4 lbs. lean ribs

Several hours before cooking, mix all ingredients except ribs. Cut ribs into serving pieces. Bake at 425 degrees, uncovered for 30 minutes. Pour off fat. Pour half the cause over the ribs. Bake at 325 degrees for 45 minutes. Place ribs over hot coals, cover with remaining sauce. Cook for 20 minutes over hot coals, turning and basting frequently.

just married

Groesbeck--Clark wed

Roses decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church in Wayne for the May 18 nuptials of Jacqueline Groesbeck of Westland and Brian Clark of Wayne.

The bride is the daughter of Keith and Janice Groesbeck of Westland. The groom is the son of Robert and Rita Clark of Wayne.

One hundred guests were in attendance for the early afternoon double ring ceremony. Readings were by the bride's brother Keith Groesbeck and the bride's brother-in-law, Tim Smith.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length white satin gown, with scooped neckline, fitted puffed sleeves and chapel train. Sequins, pearls and netting accented her hat, while white orchids, stefanotis, lilies of the valley and ivy were arranged in a cascade bouquet.

She asked her aunt, Marcie Truett of Port Huron, to perform the duties of matron of honor. She wore a lavender watersilk taffeta gown for the ceremony and carried a bouquet of lavender roses.

Serving as bridesmaid was Beth Clark, sister of the groom, from Cadillac. She wore a mauve watersilk taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of mauve roses.

The ringbearer was Mike Skeltis, 4, the son of Denise and Mike Skeltis, while the flowergirl was Lindsay Clark, the daughter of Bruce and Debbie Clark. She wore a lavender watersilk taffeta dress and carried a white umbrella for the ceremony.

The groom asked Bruce Clark, his brother, to perform the duties of best man. Serving as ushers were Keith and Kirk Groesbeck, brothers of the bride, and Rob Clark, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Groesbeck chose a lavender floor-length gown for her daughter's wedding, complimented by a lavender and white gardenia corsage. Mrs. Clark wore a floor-length burgandy chiffon gown, with short sleeves. Her corsage was of wine and white gardenias.

A reception for the newlyweds and their guests was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne.

The newlyweds will be honeymooning in Boston, Massachusetts, for one week in August.

The new Mrs. Clark is currently attending Henry Ford Community College and is employed at the Salad Bar Restaurant in Dearborn.

Her husband is a 1978 graduate of Belleville High School. An employee of General Motors in Detroit, he currently is attending Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

The couple is residing in Belleville.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe — it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers
Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

Best of all, ordering Amitol is simple, fast, and reliable! Simply call Dyna Labs Toll Free: (1-800-441-5454) Ext. 911 and order with your credit card. If you don't have a credit card Dyna Labs will also accept C.O.D. orders right over the phone! All orders are shipped immediately by UPS, which means no delay and no orders lost in the mail!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Operators are standing by and will be glad to take your order. You can order 24 hrs. a day, 7 days a week! Please don't wait to call. You really do deserve to be thin!

Sanitation Authority tax request deserves yes vote

When voters go to the polls next Tuesday in Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Garden City and Dearborn Heights, the decision they will make will not be an easy one.

The Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority, of which the five communities are members, is seeking approval of a 1-mill tax increase to finance renovations at its Dearborn Heights incinerator plant. The revenue generated would be used for the installation of an electrostatic precipitator, which would allow the authority to resume the burning of refuse.

The authority, formed in the 1950s, had burned the refuse from its members until December 1982, when it was forced to shut down the furnace because it could not meet clean air standards. Since then, it has operated as a transfer site, shipping incoming refuse to the Woodland Meadows landfill in Canton Township.

The issue in Tuesday's election is clear cut--an environmentally safe way of disposing of refuse versus continued dependence on landfills.

Public opinion is not supportive of landfills. In Huron and Sumpter townships, residents are up in arms over proposed landfill sites. In Wayne residents are continuing to protest the problems posed by the Woodland Meadows landfill, located on the border between Wayne and Canton Township. Blowing refuse and obnoxious odors are among their complaints.

But then again, public opinion of late has not been supportive of millage increase requests. Residents have in school elections, expressed a desire to keep taxes status quo, but in most cases have declined to approve increases. A case in point is the Inkster School District, where voters last month approved by a 2-1 margin the continuation of a 4-mill tax levy, but rejected an additional 5-mill increase. Likewise a 1-mill tax increase, earmarked specifically for a public library, went down in defeat in a special election in the City of Westland in April.

We understand the authority's need to get the furnaces back on line, in light of the fact that landfill space in the county will be completely exhausted in less than 10 years. We can also understand the authority's eagerness to get the furnaces in operation as soon as possible in light of that dwindling landfill space--as those sites are exhausted, more and more communities will turn to incineration to dispose of refuse or pay a high price to have it carted to landfills in other parts of the state.

We, like the Wayne County Taxpayers Association, support the concept of burning refuse as opposed to dumping in landfills that could one day becoming a threat to our health, safety and welfare. We have spent enough time destroying our environment. It is time to start restoring it so that future generations will be able to appreciate what we have for so long taken for granted.

We also agree with the taxpayers association that the property tax has been overused, although an assessment based on usage, as suggested by the group, would be most likely create another unnecessary bureaucracy.

We strongly urge voters in the five communities to support the authority's request. A yes vote, we feel, will be a vote for a healthy future.

To the Editor:

We have an exchange student that needs a host family for the coming year. The girl is 18 years of age, comes from West Germany and is very interested in the arts. She is Catholic, speaks very good English and does not smoke.

If anyone in the area is interested in becoming a host family for this student or for any student, please contact Carol L. Verkennis, Area Representative Youth for Understanding, at 728-5917. We would like to place her as soon as possible.

Bittersweet decision

To the Editor:

I have accepted the position of Parts Manager of the General Motors Truck Center at Cleveland, Ohio.

Therefore, my resignation from the Canton Public Library Board will take effect Sept. 1, 1985.

The decision to accept this position, which includes a promotion and salary increase, was nevertheless, a difficult and bittersweet one. Helping to produce such a great library would have been enough. In addition was the honor of serving with an outstanding group of people -- the Library Board and staff.

A lifetime of public service would not find a better group of volunteers than these people who remain on the board. My hope and prayer upon departing is that the Canton community will always give the Library Board the support necessary to provide a level of library services as good as the people it serves.

These 10 years in Canton have seen the birth of two of our three children and finding many true friends whom we will always remember and appreciate. To have so many friends and happy memories and gained so much good experience from one place is a real possession of timeless value. One thinks of the immortal influence of John Flodin and Bart Berg, as well as the ongoing example of persons too numerous to list here. They are all special for their willingness to serve others.

Canton has been a great and happy experience for my family and I. For every type of support, for every kindness, MaryBeth and I thank you.

Council commended

To the Editor:

This is directed at the city council of Wayne. I thing they are to be commended for their recent action denying a company the right to build another shopping center in Wayne.

The shopping mall we have is not doing too well and its tenants are having a difficult time. Perhaps a business could be brought in that would not be in competition with those already here. Since the Wayne Music Center moved away (folded) there is a need for a store of that kind or a shoe store or an electronics store, etc., to name a few.

Volunteers lauded

To the Editor:

Volunteers . . . do we thank them enough? Appreciation for their efforts and a pat on the back for a job well-done is their only reward. Although we may say to ourselves or a friend, "That person did a great job," we often forget to take the time to say it to the right people.

Heartiest congratulations to Catherine Foege of Country Place Feed Store, Rita Thompson and Mary Perlono for their hard work and dedication to making the recent promotion in Canton for the Mayflower Hot Air Balloon Festival the success it was.

Catherine held meetings to get ideas for a promotion. Rita designed the posters and forms. Mary worked with both to coordinate, explain, deliver kits, pick up kits and so much more. And it doesn't stop there. They are already working on next year.

Denise Kralowski of the Canton Eagle and Mike Rankin of the Canton Observer both worked very hard in helping to put the drawing for the trip to the Bahamas together.

There are many others who have put in a lot of effort on this function and others. We cannot mention all their names, but they know who they are and we thank them all.

That is the point . . . we should try to remember to thank those who work to make volunteer efforts successful. It may be to raise funds for a charity, to make a festival more fun, to bring attention to local businesses, or just bring a smile into our lives. Without volunteers, where would we be?

Volunteers, stand up and take a bow. You deserve it.

This changing land

Last Wednesday I was returning from Washington, D.C., following a quick trip for a meeting. I peered out the window of the 727 aircraft as we left the ground and climbed into the heavens. The hot streets and stone monuments of Washington disappeared below as we gained altitude.

Usually, when I travel by air, I am preoccupied with thoughts of business, occupied by reading, doing paperwork or engaged in conversation with a fellow passenger. But Wednesday my mental chalkboard was clear and I stared out, visually absorbing all that I could see.

So often the clouds are so thick that apart from the brief time that it takes to soar up through them you cannot see the earth below. That day, however, the white floating mist only spotted the land. A patchwork quilt lay below, with dark green forests, light green fields and brown rolling land. Here and there multi-toned rivers snaked across the terrain and highways crisscrossed the tapestry.

If you looked closely you could see cars crawling along the roadways like ants. Down there people were working, playing, talking, laughing, hurting and even dying. But I didn't hear them or see them.

To look down from above at our huddled masses makes one feel like a divine creature. How awesome it must be to see the earth from an orbiting craft. How insignificant daily trivial problems must appear after seeing the whole of our existence in one view. Even from there I could see the slight curve of the earth and could almost feel the slope and size of this sphere we call earth as it slowly spins beneath us.

It's amazing how we collectively take God's gift of this magnificent planet so much for granted each day.

Each day those little ants down there are busy at their work, occupied satisfying their own needs, feelings and priorities.

In so many ways we contribute to the destruction of the land from which we glean our very existence. We pollute the land with our litter and toxic waste; we foul the air with our machines, belching gaseous fumes and smoke into the atmosphere.

In turn the polluted air kills off the vegetation that sustains us. We cut down the trees that purify the air we breathe, replacing them with houses, condos, factories and shopping centers.

"I know you're busy . . . but then . . . so are ants," goes the old saying. Oh, how busy those ants below seem to be, gnawing away at the land like termites, creating stench and filth, busily re-arranging God's furniture, changing the face of the land.

What we call progress and construction has through the ages forever altered the face of this marvelous sphere. Despite us, it seems to survive and heal itself . . . despite our surgical bulldozing . . . despite our excavating, blasting, paving, cutting and tampering.

It will not stop, this so called progress, and cannot. But perhaps we should remember that our survival is not a total certainty. We assume far too much, far more than we can afford.

We are the ants who dig away at the land, we are the makers of our own fate as civilization . . . and we may be our own executioners. See you next week . . .

Jeffrey Bruce

A funny thing... Makeup artist turns stage star

By RUSS OGDEN
Special to ANP

The place: Midtown Cafe, a couple of doors from the Birmingham Theatre. Jeffrey Bruce is seated at a table awaiting a tardy interviewer. Jeffrey Bruce, bearded and somewhat balding (in a not unattractive way) stands about 6 feet tall, physically lean, with a charming smile.

Seated at the table with Bruce and myself is Thomas Cooch, (an aspiring male musical comedy candidate), Bruce became an energized human volcano . . . clever, risqué, comedic words pouring out reflecting an intellect and a finely honed sense of humor. He becomes (as time progresses a 3-tiered personal ity . . . individual, if you will, and under the outer subterfuge, he is a loner, a thinker, and a person who "loves to perform" but could find satisfaction with a "book, a bed, and solitude" for an indefinite period of time.

Will Jeffrey Bruce - full of outward confidence - trip professionally on his way to the Birmingham Theatre to star (yes, star) in his first musical production? "Have you ever appeared in a musical?" "No." "Can you sing?" "Not really." "Have you ever appeared on the legitimate stage?" "No." "Ever acted before from a script?" "No." Hmm . . .

Bruce had been recommended to the producers by a professional friend for the role of Pseudolus (Zero Mostel's role in the Broadway production). Bruce had expressed his desire to try acting in a musical. Perhaps "Little Me," "The Fantastics," and "I Do! I Do!" being top notch on his favored list.

Why was Bruce suggested for this singing, speaking role of Pseudolus in "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum?"

Bruce apparently has gained local fame with quite a few female television viewers through the Kelly and Company television show as a substitute host during the past few years. As a result of this popularity and general mischievous behavior on this program, his regional appeal in his first time musical seemed a possibility.

He was a saleable celebrity and the Moloney Productions bought him after his first interview with them.

Bruce's eyes express emotions as he talks with verbosity! When telling about his childhood, he mentions being from a lower middle class Jewish family and that "work was the word in his household!"

Bruce attended Francis Lewis High School in Queens, New York. His concentration on the academic side of school was cast aside for a role as the class clown. I had an "uproarious sense of humor;" sometimes was indeed a "free spirit that sometimes approached filth verbally." Inborn desire to be popular, to publicly perform. His folks had given him a "wonderful upbringing." Graduated from school at age 15 and thought that being a portrait painter sounded like a good occupation, following this endeavor for a short time. Moved from that to being a lifeguard in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and from that to a make-up artist in a salon.

Bruce has been in the cosmetic business for 21 years and his products (Jeffrey Bruce Cosmetics) are sold through 43 metropolitan outlets in the United States. He worked for the Revlon Company as Director of Cosmetology, leaving them at age 25. Moved to Los Angeles where he was in huge demand as a cosmetologist

"Love to come to Michigan. Michigan people want you to succeed in whatever you do and feel guilty, somewhat, if you do not succeed." New Yorkers, on the other hand in the business/theatrical arena live in hope that you will fail. And seem to glorify in failures! He spends around eight weeks per year enjoying Detroit and environs.

Bruce enjoys seeing people doing what they enjoy! His chief dislike is that of "instigators." People in the professional world who take advantage of other people who have absolutely no type of recourse.

Bruce opened last Wednesday evenings at the Birmingham Theatre diving professionally into cold waters as Pseudolus. He's in olympic form.

Figures disputed

To the Editor:

In regard to the renovation Senior Center, I would like to take this opportunity to correct many of the false data in Councilman Nancy Neal's letter to Council on May 6, 1985, of which you printed in part in your May 15 edition of The Westland Eagle.

Not only was Councilman Neal's letter erroneous in her figures, but the data she used was misleading and blatantly false.

The criterion she used was outdated (1983 figures) and in no way comparable to what we are building and renovating. The figures in her letter are nearly 100 percent wrong, and I am shocked by her attempt to discredit the Council, the Administration, our architect and the Olson Construction Co.

She has vilified highly qualified persons without every investigating all the facts. Even though we had a study session with our architect and contractor at which she was present, Mrs. Neal never asked any of the questions in your article until the Council meeting was in progress.

Now let us take the facts as they actually are:

On March 27 invitations to bid on the construction and renovation of the New Senior Center were advertised in the Eagle, Construction Publication on March 21, and in the Dodge Reports on March 18. Eleven construction companies picked up bids of which 5 actually bid on the project.

On April 4 at 3 p.m. (which I was present) sealed bids were opened at City Hall and the Olson Construction Co. of St. Clair Shores was the low bidder at $873,000 (not the $852,000 as Mrs. Neal stated) amounting to $72.75 per square foot. On April 15, Council passed a motion to accept the low bid, and I was asked to negotiate along with the administration, to lower the costs, which we did on April 24. We reduced expenditures by $21,000 bringing the new costs to $852,000. On April 29, Council held a special meeting to approve the contract but was postponed until the May 6 Council meeting. On May 6, we approved the new bid (contract) of $852,000.

Mrs. Neal, on April 29, said costs were reduced to $61 per square foot - not true - costs were still $71 per square foot. This is for a complete building, not a shell!

Let's examine the cost figures of the Senior Center Mrs. Neal mentioned located in Minnesota, that was a 2,720-square-foot building, which cost was $107,652 or $39.58 per square foot to build two years ago at a conservative 10 percent inflation factor per year add $21,530 and you get $129,182. Now our building is about 4.5 times this size, so if you multiply $129,182 times 4.5 you get $581,319 or $4 more per square foot for this structure, than we are paying for ours.

Unfortunately, Mrs. Neal comingled 10 percent of truth with 90 percent of falsehood.

No one will dispute the fact that as a legislator, Mrs. Neal has the right, even the obligation, to question costs of every building contract. Coupled with that, however, is her responsibility to collect the true costs to present to the public.

False and misleading costs based on structures built two years ago reflects not only Mrs. Neals lack of construction knowledge, but has a demeaning ripple effect on the entire Council.

Now let's look at what Mrs. Neal did not include in the $71 per square foot figure:

1. $18,000 for brick walls,
2. $27,000 for architect fees,
3. $18,000 for walking course,
4. $11,000 greenhouse,
5. $5,200 HVAC screening,
6. $4,900 sound system,
7. $9,000 fire and security alarm,
8. $3,600 shower room,
9. $13,300 permits, water taps and bonds,
10. $28,000 site work,
11. $4,200 landscaping,
12. $10,500 fencing,
13. $48,300 paving parking lot,
14. $3,150 curb cuts,
15. $2,150 site engineering,
16. $5,000 passing lane,
17. $1,500 removal and install, new sign,
18. $35,700 kitchen equipment,
19. $9,000 kitchen cabinets
20. $26,100 demo work,
21. $8,000 sprinkler system,
22. $1,300 fire prevention system - kitchen,
23. $49,000 siding,
24. $2,000 shutters,
25. $27,000 partitions,
26. $54,814 underground sewers, water lines, etc.

This adds up to $425,714 of extras. When you deduct this from the $852,000 total cost, you get a cost for the renovation and construction of the building of $426,286. Divide 12,000 square feet of this building into $426,286 and you get $35 per square foot, or $4 less per square foot than the Minnesota senior center!

These facts, plus more than $40,000 of money and equipment in donations so far, make this building a very cost effective structure.

Mrs. Neal also stated the cost of material were not broken down - simply not true! The problem is she never bothered to ask for or examine this information until eight days after Council voted to approve the contract and weeks after the bid was approved!

Even more frightening is Mrs. Neal's lack of professionalism as a legislator in not researching this project before she made her erroneous statements. For some strange reason, Mrs. Neal has tried to scuttle this project.

If anyone doubts these figures, I have them available at anytime by calling me at City Hall at 467-3183. I would be most happy to supply you with a copy.

Thank you for setting the record straight with the TRUTH!

Ms. Hits make it 3 in-a-row

For the third consecutive season, the Ms. Hits have won themselves a softball title. This year Manager George Roberts' softball team picked up the 1985 Senior Division crown in the Belleville-Van Buren league. Roberts, who said he was retiring after the current campaign, has managed some excellent clubs, including the 1982 All-Stars who reached the state finals before

3-way tie for 1st place in Romulus Class A

Back-to-back setbacks by pacesetter Captain's Nemos has created a logjam atop of the Romulus Men's Division I softball league this week as the teams maneuver for the playoffs.

Nemo's blew a 7-6 third inning lead and dropped a cliff-hanging 10-9 decision to runner-up Bailey's Weschler. Nemo's also lost a 5-3 thriller to M & D Softball earlier in the week.

The two losses left Captain Nemo's with a 16-4 over-all record and tied for first place with Bailey's and Morgan's Associates.

Capt. Nemo's drew first blood against Bailey as they put four runs on the scoreboard in the first inning, but Bailey's came right back in their first and grabbed a 5-4 lead. They increased that margin to 6-4 in the next inning but then Nemo's came back and took control 7-6. The game was deadlocked at 9-all at the end of seven, forcing the issue into extra innings. Bailey's finally broke the knot in the bottom of the ninth.

Mike Nielson paced the losers with a pair of homers and a double. Larry Chesad also belted a roundtripper and single while Mel Allen also blasted a homer.

Bailey's received an exceptional performance at the plate from Jim Jzeluk who belted two homers and a single. Terry Yackley also homered and Stan Brown chipped in a single and homer.

M & D held off a last inning Nemo's rally to win a 5-3 decision from the league leader. Nemo's scored twice in the bottom of the seventh but it wasn't enough as M & D's defense sparkled during most of the evening. Mark Bratcher collected a pair of doubles and Bill Hunt homered for the losers while Sonny Wright accounted for three singles and B.G. Raynes had a single and a double for the winners.

M & D also won a close one from A.C. Express, 12-11, thanks to Bill Jones's bat. Jones drilled three hits, including a triple and a pair of doubles. Tim Straub contributed a single and a triple.

A & C got two hits apiece from Bill Cichowski, Mike Kelley and Ed Henson.

St. Lawrence chalked up its fourth victory in 20 starts at the expense of Wayne Palmer Standard, 22-11. Marty Hamilton laced a single and a double and Marty McClaughlin had a single and triple. Their rivals, Dan Daneker, Phil Ford and Joe Honey each had two hits.

Morgan Associates stayed with the leaders with a lopsided 26-4 victory over cellar-dweller, R.J. Party Store. The victory, Morgan's 16th in 20 starts, featured four hits from Darrel Garner, including a homer, triple, pair of doubles and a single.

Danny Goodwin and teammate Phil Anderson accounted for three hits each for the winners.

Mark Seerney led the losers with two hits and Paul Bires got a double.

Wayne Palmer erupted for five runs in the first inning en route to a 17-5 victory over R.J. Party Store. The winners received three hits from Len Burns, Tony Caudill, Ron Meiser, John Shaw, Al Boyer and Phil Jackson.

John Moonaw latched on to three hits, including a triple, of the city teams that will compete in the Michigan Parks and Recreation state finals. The finals will be conducted later this year.

Among those who have already entered in this year's tournament is Terry Johnson, who picked up a set of woods last year when he won the "Closest to the Pin", coming within inches of scoring a hole-in-one.

Others who are competing include: Dan Sowa, Donald Haggitt, David Daniels, Don Perpere, Sam Magna, Tom Kelley, John Sample, Chuck Adams, Ken Straub, Richard Hunter, Kevin Pollock, Barry Wallace, Paul Massimilla, William Aro, Daniel Taylor, Bob Burnie, and Lynn M. Dodds.

"We expect approximately 100 golfers to compete in this tournament," said Bill Hawley, tournament manager. "And we will have a complete list of the competitors and tee times published in the newspaper the week of the tournament."

Separate city championships are held simultaneously for all participating cities and additional flight competitions will be staged for each city if the total entry from the city is sufficient. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place finishers in each flight.

And, in case of a tie for a trophy, the competitors will hold a "sudden death" playoff to determine the winner.

Wayne golfers also will be competing for the Patrolman Len Anderson Memorial Trophy, awarded to the medalist from Wayne. Patrolman Anderson was the first Wayne police officer to be slain in the line of duty.

A special trophy will be presented to the low scorer (medalist) of the entire field.

Caesar's closing in on title

Belleville club is leading 'A' pack

Karen Webber drilled a homer and chased in three runs as Little Caesar's of Belleville stopped Jake's J & D Auto 7-1 for its 17th victory in 18 outings this season.

The Belleville victory all but sealed the 1985 regular season title for the club which has a three-game cushion on its nearest rival, Century 21. Century was also an easy winner of Greg's I. Century 21 is standing on a 14-3 over-all record.

Janis Coleman, the winning pitcher against Jake's, gave up eight hits, including a homer to Lori Newman. Kim Knight stroked a double and triple for the losers. Brenda Krezsky chipped in three hits and drove home two runs for the winners.

Century's Karen Gill allowed only four hits in her team's 17-1 win over Greg's. Shelly and Pam Misener led the losers with Pam collecting a single and triple. Shelly also tripled. Losing pitcher Sandy Fairchild gave up four hits to Michelle Bardoni while Michelle Miller laced a roundtripper and tripled and accounted for five runs batted in.

Little Caesar's also carded a 14-7 victory over fourth-place

Lanzo Construction as Coleman again was the winning pitcher. Terri D'Annunzio picked up two hits, including a triple while Chris Pinter got four RBIs, thanks to a triple and three singles. Losing hurler Mel Phillips gave up a total of 14 hits. Lanzo got most of its hits from the bats of Sue Brater and Denise Reynolds who split six hits between them.

Over in Division II, Walter's Bar and Telegraph Inn clashed and the collision produced a 4-3 victory for Walter's and a two-way tie for first place between the two arch rivals. Telegraph send Diane Scarbrough to the mound and she was tagged for eight hits, including three by Connie Wyszowski who tripled. Monica Offman also tripled and singled for Walter's. Laura Umin, the winning pitcher, gave up three hits - all singles - to Sue Stewart and Wanda Syer finished the evening with two hits.

Benny's scored six times in the first inning en route to a 14-1 victory over seventh-place Coughlin Transportation. Benny's collected a total of 18 hits off of loser, Sharon Howie, who

City champs

Boasting an enviable 13-1 over-all record, the 1985 Mustang AAA team, the Leopards, added the Westland City Championship to their long list of baseball accomplishments. They also won their league title. The Leopards emerged with the city title by emerging atop of a 13-10 slugfest thanks to some clutch pitching by Brian Tack, Brad Wiacek and Jeff Allen while Bryan Slaughter came through with a key hit that settled the issue in the champs' favor. Pictured above are John Caplis (front row, from left), Derek Besco, Bryan Besco, Donnie Fletcher, Greg Ruyak, Joey Sankovich, and Andy Deverich; second row are Coach Bernie Ruyak, Richie Plocharczyk, Brian Tack, Jeff Allen, Jim Baird, Bryan Slaughter and Coach Tom Caplis. In the third row is manager Gregg Slaughter. Not available at the time of the photo are Coach Ray Haar and Brad Wiacek.

Little Caesar's edging toward championship

delivered two each to Vicki Whaley and Karen Houle. Carol Minda was the winner, tossing a six-hitter. Debbie Kilroy had two of those hits while Janet Hollister chipped in with a run-scoring single.

Last-place Middlebelt Bar scored six times in the second inning and hung on to win a 10-7 from Senate Coney. Daphine Juliano slammed a homer and a pair of singles and Joanne Miller got two hits for the winners. Winning pitcher Cindy Cavers was tagged for 14 hits, four of them going to Gail Blanchard. Lori Graham belted a single and a triple.

In the only other Women's Division II game, Suburban Oil edged Glass Mug 8-7 for victory No. 9. Judy Vargo knocked in two runs thanks to two hits as winning pitcher Kathy Potoczak yielded four hits, two to Janet Moomaw. Lisa Moonow's single paved the way for two of Glass Mug's seven runs.

Local 372 continues to hold a half-game edge over second place Skone's in the Friday Night Division I men's circuit. Easily whipping fourth place Federal Mogul 15-2 behind pitcher Bob Severt's eight-hitter, Local 372 still has to be concerned about Skone's which has amassed a 9-1 over-all record. Bob Schulte, Sam May and Ray Sterl each homered while Bill Gill turned in with four hits for the league-leaders. Severt served up eight hits to the losers, including two each to Kyle Baker and Ron Miles.

Double Eagle scored eight times in the third inning and hung on to edge last place E.C.S., Inc., 16-13, in their confrontation last week. Double Eagle's Ron Horvath tripled in a pair of runs and Dennis Finck had five RBIs for the winners who got an 8-hit pitching effort from Dave Straten.

Losing pitcher Al Lamoreux wasted his three RBIs and teammate Charlie Hall had three hits, including a triple.

The Family exploded for 11 runs in the third inning to overpower sixth place Murray's 22-7. The winners continue to look down at the rest of the Division II field thanks to a 9-1 over-all record. Environ's remains in title contention thanks to an 8-3 mark.

Kevin Currio was the winning pitcher, twirling a six-hitter. He gave up five of the seven runs in the fourth inning. Kurt Schildberg collected five RBIs with a pair of homers and a double and Jerry Freier carded two RBIs with a single for the losers. Rich Ivan, who had two triples in three hits, and Rick Sheldon, Larry Farr, and Al Aybee each with three led the winners.

Distron fattened its record to 7-3 at the expense of Intrcarb, 14-2, as Russ Barnett, Don Yanick, Ron Martin and Randy Zonka each turned in with two hits. Losing pitcher Rod Meika had three hits while teammates Mike Bernat and Ron Vork laced two apiece.

Birclar Electric scored eight times in the sixth inning to beat back Advanced Creations 16-6 for their sixth victory in 11 starts. Harry Hunter and Conrad Jager each had three hits off of loser Ken Kranse who also gave up a single and double to Keith Toor. Ed Tieppo was the winner, tossing a seven-hitter. Jerry Lewis and Dave Feaner had triples for the losers.

Environ stayed in the title chase with a 10-9 victory over Advanced Creations thanks to two hits by Bob Coffee who had a homer and single and five RBIs. Mike McGuff checked in with three runs batted in and three hits. Winner Rick Mende delivered nine hits, including a homer to Dan Thomas.

In other games, Coughlin Transporation scored a one-sided 17-2 victory over Middlebelt Bar as Linda Meidej belted a single, double and triple for the winners. Vicki Brainard anmd Pam Yount also turned in with three hits apiece.

Walter's came up with five runs in the bottom of the seventh but it wasn't enough as Glass Mug edged their rivals 10-9. Jane Shaffer homered and Tammy Nelson and Monica Offman each had two hits.

Kathy Boatwright led the winners with three hits. Jan Moomaw, Jan McBride, Barb Gappa, Sharon McBride and Dorothy Ryznar each had two hits for the winners.

for RJ's, while Randy Young, Jim German and Dean Smith checked in with two hits apiece.

In the only other Division I match-up last week, Morgan's blasted Bailey's 15-7 as Jim Sims hammered two triples and a single. Foley Childs had four hits, including two doubles, and Danny Goodwin chipped in three hits as did Preston James.

Bailey's got three hits, including a double, from Dan Cordle. Jim Rafalski and Jamie Hinojosa each had two hits.

In the meantime, Walter's continued to dominate the Men's Over 35 League as the undefeated league leader racked up its fourth straight win at the expense of Harry's 10-8. Willy Wessels paced the winners with three hits, including a triple, while Stan Syer chipped in with a couple of singles.

Harry's Ron Swantek pounded out three hits, including a double. Harry Bell also had three hits for the losers.

Landis Machine opened up a two-game lead over the rest of the field in the Men's Division II play as they buried last place Mitch's Party Store 16-1, but suffered an upset at the hands of sixth place, Michelin Tire 12-4.

Gary Hardwick led the assault against Mitch's as he slammed three hits including a roundtripper. Ed Eddings and Kevin Collins also turned in with three hits, including a triple each. Dave Rainee also had three hits - all singles.

Three innings of scoreless play ended with Landis putting two runs on the board in the top of the fourth inning, but Michelin came back and surprised Landis with three runs in the bottom of that inning, then added three more in the fifth and then erupted for six more in the sixth to run away with the decision.

Michelin got four hits from Chico Robinson while Ken Karpunk got three, including three, and two each from John Hale and Jim Curtis. Landis wasted homers from Jim Gross and Bill Colatrain. Kevin Collins had a run-scoring triple.

Sun-N-Snow came up with five runs in the last two frames, but they weren't enough as the Bohemian Brothers edged their rivals 9-8. Scott Connochek slammed three hits and Chuck McBride chipped in with two - a double and triple - while Mike Mjodiszoski had two hits for the winners.

Sun-N-Snow's Mike McGutch strung together three hits while teammates John Clark, Mike Hunter, Dave Frazier and Wes Jazer each had two hits.

Bohemian Brothers scored six times in the third inning and that was the difference in its 8-5 victory over Mitch's Party Store. Tony Riche collected three hits and Terry Magunson and Floyd Lalonde each had two hits.

Nan's picked up its 12th victory against seven defeats at the expense of Sun-N-Snow, 12-4 thanks to a 6-run first inning outburst. Ron Kennedy led the winners with three hits. Gill Cox, Jeff Cader and Pat D'Anunzio each had two safeties for the winners.

Tourney

Entries for the tournament may be either mailed or dropped off at The Associated Newspapers offices, 35540 Michigan Avenue, Wayne, Michigan.

There is a $25 entry fee which covers the two days of golfing and trophy fees. What's summer without the movies?

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Hey, it's summer again and that means bugs getting in the house when the kids run in and out every minute or so, heat-waves, hay fever and, of course, a landslide of new movies. See, there's a good part to everything.

Some of the films previewed here have already been released to audience - if not always critical - acclaim.

Proving that he can do more

Kathleen Turner and Jack Nicholson in "Prizzi's Honor"

opened for one day, if that. Her new movie, "The Legend of Billie Jean," which has nothing to do with the song of a couple years back. Reviews have been mixed, but Slater has been getting some raves, which is good news since she wasn't responsible for the demise (pun intended) of "Supergirl."

"Prizzi's Honor," all that can be said is that if you haven't seen it yet, GO! Top-notch performances by Jack Nicholson and the steamy Kathleen Turner make this one jump off the screen.

Mel Gibson is back with "Mad Max III," this time co-starring with Tina Turner. If you liked the first two (I did), you'll like this one. Nuff said.

For science fiction fans, there's "Life Force" and "The Explorers," both of which will please fans of the genre.

Ah, comedy. The best comedies seem to come out in the summer, and it seems this year is no exception. Catch Chevy Chase in "Fletch," which isn't even really a comedy. He's great.

Or, you may prefer the soon-to-be-released "National Lampoon's European Vacation," starring the same actors which made the first film a movie worth watching.

Or, you may want to catch John Candy in "Summer Rental" in what may be the summer's best comedy, but it'll be given a run for it's money by "The Man With One Red Shoe," starring "Splash" star

"Explorers"

Tom Hanks and Jim Belushi. These are just a few of the many new film releases you'll be hearing about in the next few months. Go. Even cable has gotten boring...

A Little 'Peanut'

Stephanie Winiarski, 8, of Linden, Michigan, the Michigan Kiwanis Clubs' 1984 "Little Miss Peanut" will pass her crown to a new Kiwanis queen on July 29 at the District Pageant in Livonia.

The contest will be held in the Mama Mia Banquet Hall, 27770 Plymouth Road, Livonia, beginning at 7 p.m.

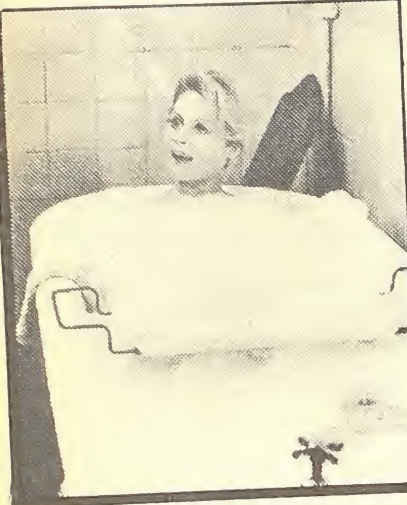

Competing in the Livonia contest will be for 6-, 7- and 8-year-old girls who are sponsored by Kiwanis clubs in lower Michigan.

All will be vying for the chance to represent the Michigan Kiwanis District at the International Kiwanis "Little Miss Peanut" Pageant in Oak Brook, Illinois (near Chicago) next Aug. 30, where the winner will receive $10,000 scholarship, an all-expense-paid trip to the Pageant, plus merchandise, prizes and endorsement opportunities.

Parents who wish to enter their daughters in the pageant competition should contact the Kiwanis club in their own community, or Pageant headquarters in Chicago, (312) 986-9400. There are no fees or costs of any kind to participate in the Kiwanis "Little Miss Peanut" Pageant program.

Stephanie Winiarski, who represented Michigan Kiwanis clubs at the International Pageant last year (emceed by television star and long-running emcee of the Miss America Pageant, Bert Parks) will be on hand in Livonia to counsel and advise the little candidates on how best to compete in the International Pageant in Oak Brook.

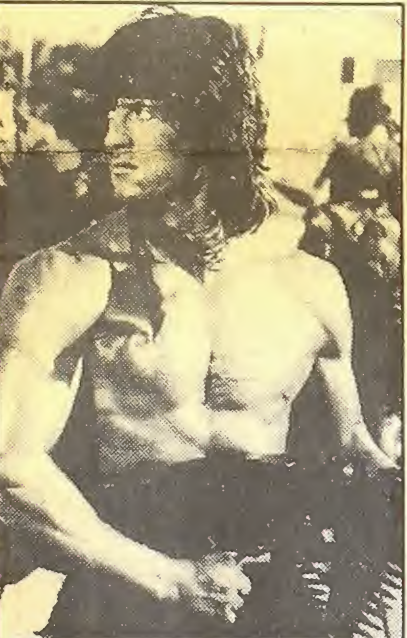

The "Little Miss Peanut" Pageant is sponsored by the Kiwanis Kids' Day Peanut Sale Committee, Inc., a non-profit organization of Kiwanis members headquartered in Oak Brook, Illinois, which coordinates Kiwanis Peanut Day fundraisers nationwide.

Beverly D'Angelo in "European Vacation" than grunt and say "Hey Adrian," Sylvester Stallone has followed up the enormously successfully "First Blood" with "Rambo - First Blood Part II." It's not bad for an all-action film, but it does pale by comparison to it's predecessor. Also, it may be a little too gory for the kids.

Coming off the biggest bomb since the big one is Helen Slater, who played the title role in "Supergirl," which I think

ORDER TO ANSWER
At a session of said court held in the City of Westland, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, on the 17 day of July 1985.
PRESENT: HONORABLE THOMAS G. SMITH District Judge
On the 27th day of June, 1985, an action was filed by J. Richard Balsbaugh and Juliet B. Balsbaugh, Plaintiffs, against James E. Shedd, Linda Skszek, Elizabeth H. Good, Columbus L. Smith and occupants of 341 Merriman, Westland, Michigan, in this court to forfeit a land contract dated January 18, 1976 between Plaintiffs and Elizabeth H. Good and Columbus L. Smith.
Upon hearing and consideration of the verified Motion of Plaintiffs, effectuated, and it appearing to the court that Defendants Elizabeth H. Good and Columbus L. Smith are not best apprised of the pendency of this action by the publication of this order in a newspaper,
IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendants Elizabeth H. Good and Columbus L. Smith, make answers as required by law or take other action as may be permitted by law on or before August 22, at 9:00 a.m. or before August 22, at 9:00 a.m. or before August 22, at 9:00 a.m. Failure to comply with this Order may result in a judgment by default against Defendants Elizabeth H. Good and Columbus L. Smith for the relief demanded in the complaint filed in this court.
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this Order be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in Wayne County, Michigan and a copy be posted at said address.
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the first publication of this Order be made within 10 days from the date of entry of the Order and that prior to the date of the last publication of a copy of this Order, a copy of this Order be enclosed in a properly sealed envelope, with postage fully prepaid, bearing the return address of Plaintiffs attorney, and the same be deposited in the United States mail addressed to Defendants Elizabeth H. Good and Columbus L. Smith at 341 Merriman, Westland, Michigan 48185, Defendants Good and Smith's last known address.
